

PECULIAR ACCIDENT SERIOUSLY INJURES LICKING FISHERMEN

Boat Strikes Stick of Dynamite in Edge of River and Occupants Are Injured in the Explosion.

Walker Colbert and Guy Taylor, of Boston Station, met with a peculiar accident Saturday morning on Main Licking River near Menzies Station. These two young men went to the river about 4 o'clock that morning to trace their trotlines. They were in a johnboat and when near the shore the boat was blown to pieces. Mr. Colbert was hurled about fifteen feet into the air and his right foot was badly mangled, which will render him a cripple for life. Mr. Taylor escaped with a severe shaking up and a few bruises.

Mr. Colbert was taken to the Booth Memorial Hospital in Covington, where his foot is receiving treatment. Mr. Colbert has been working on a railroad out of St. Paul, Minn., and had been at home since last April. This deplorable accident that befell Mr. Colbert is distressing to say the least and he has the sympathy of a host of friends throughout the county.

From what we can learn from people living in that section, it is thought that a stick of dynamite was left by some one who had been "fishing" in the edge of the river and the johnboat struck it and caused it to explode. Mr. Colbert was in the boat directly over the explosion — Falmouth Outlook.

PREACHER WILL ARRIVE ON TIME

The managers of the campmeeting are very glad that all doubt of Dr. Birney's coming is now at rest. With Drs. Birney and Fort to do the big work of the campmeeting a successful meeting is assured.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carpenter left Thursday afternoon for Ruggles Campgrounds. Mr. Carpenter will have charge of the stables and auto park during the meeting.

BANK CHARGES COERCION BY THE FEDERAL SYSTEM

Farmers and Merchants Institution of Catlettsburg Secures Temporary Block of Alleged Practices.

Catlettsburg, Ky., July 22. — Charging that the Federal Reserve Banking system is attempting to coerce it into joining the system, the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Catlettsburg, one of the strongest financial institutions in Eastern Kentucky, has filed suit against the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland and against Harry B. McCall, the reserve bank's agent at Catlettsburg.

The action filed in Boyd Circuit Court asked a temporary restraining injunction to prevent the Cleveland bank and its Catlettsburg agent from practices alleged to have been indulged in in attempts to coerce, and alleged to be calculated to injure the credit and standing of the Catlettsburg institution.

The federal reserve law makes it obligatory for national banks to become members of the reserve system, but allows state banks to decide for themselves whether they shall or shall not join. The petition recites that it is common understanding in banking circles that there have been coercive methods used in many cities throughout the country to force state banks to become members.

L. P. Arthur, Circuit Court Clerk, has issued a temporary restraining order, enjoining the Cleveland bank and Mr. McCall from engaging further in the alleged practices. The entire case will later come up before Judge W. C. Halbert for permanent action.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION.

There will be a special registration held at the County Clerk's office on Saturday, July 23rd, from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. for voters who have changed voting precincts, who were ill or out of the city at the last regular registration or who have become of age since the last election. DAMAGES SOUGHT FROM C. & O. IN SUIT FILED FRIDAY

Driver of Automobile Which Was Struck at Poplar Street Crossing, Seeks $5,000 Damages in Suit Brought Today.

Through Attorney M. J. Hennessy, of Augusta, John Barry brought suit in the Mason Circuit Court Friday afternoon against the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company seeking damages in the sum of five thousand dollars and costs for injuries sustained when struck by one of the company's trains last winter.

Mr. Barry states in his petition that last November he was crossing in an automobile which he was operating, over East Third street at the Poplar street crossing when the auto was struck by the defendant corporation's engine and train of cars. The automobile was wrecked and by reason of the wreck the plaintiff was badly bruised and suffered permanent injury.

He claims the wreck was occasioned by the defendant's agents' gross negligence and carelessness and prays for damages in the sum of five thousand dollars.

FATHER AND SON CAPTURED AFTER A MONTH'S HIDING

Lee Striblin and Young Son, Charged With Cutting and Wounding, Are Arrested at Minerva Late Thursday Evening and Returned.

Lee Striblin and his twelve-year-old son, Robert Striblin, who have been in hiding from the police since the night of June 27th, were captured by Chief of Police Harry A. Ort at Minerva late Thursday.

Striblin and his son are charged in warrants in City court with cutting and wounding with intent to kill. It will be remembered that on the night of June 27th, young Striblin cut and very seriously wounded young Henry Tolle, twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tolle, of Front street, when in a kid's fight in Front street. It is charged that Lee Striblin urged his young son into the fight with the Tolle boy and then furnished the son with a knife with which he inflicted serious wounds upon his opponent. Warrants were immediately issued for both Striblin and the son but the father is charged with spiriting the lad away into the country where they have been dodging the officers since.

On several occasions the police have received tips as to where the man and his son were but upon the arrival of the officers they had made their escape. On Thursday night the local police station was telephoned that they were seen near Minerva and they were held there until Chief Ort arrived. An examining trial will probably be held before Police Judge John L. Whitaker in City Court Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Is this a time to be letting up on the efficiency of farming? A thousand times No! That would be yielding to a penny-wise, pound-foolish policy.

Yield is the big thing today. A certain yield from the land must first pay the fixed expenses—such as an investment in land, interest, taxes, or rent, depreciation on equipment, etc.—to break even. For profit, the yield must go higher.

OUR POLICY:

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

A FOOT IN THE OPEN DOOR.

Some time ago an American concern, the Federal Telegraph Company, entered into a contract with the Chinese government for the erection of wireless stations in Shanghai and other strategic points in China. Protests were immediately lodged against this contract by the British, Japanese and Danish governments. The British protest was on behalf of the Marconi Company, and was based on the plea that the rights granted this British concern by the Chinese constituted a monopoly, and that the contract which had been entered into with the American company infringed those rights.

In June, the Chinese Minister addressed a note to the State Department asking if, in view of these protests, the United States proposed to withdraw its support from the Federal Telegraph Company. To this communication Secretary Hughes has just sent a reply which is as direct and unambiguous as a ray of sunlight. He declares that the "open door" shall not be closed, that American rights will be protected, and that this government fully comprehends the trend of affairs in China, where, since the war, all the worst features of the old secret diplomacy and national greed have appeared once more.

The words of Mr. Hughes are not mined. He says: "It is the purpose of this government neither to participate nor to acquiesce in any arrangement which might purport to establish in favor of foreign interests any superiority of rights with respect to commercial or economic development in designated regions of the territories of China."

It is reassuring to know that Mr. Hughes is laboring under no illusions, that he understands the temper of the great nations, and that he has his foot in the open door of trade in the Far East. The European Powers are apparently bent on retrieving their fallen fortunes by any means whatever, and without looking too closely into the ethics of their policies. It is proper that the United States should look out for itself.

THE JAPANO-ANGLANESE ALLIANCE.

The Lord High Chancellor of England declares that the Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance continues in effect until a year after it shall have been denounced by either party. It is a poor commentary on the astuteness of the British premiers that they have not read and understood the plain language of the treaty. They are now in London engaged, it is reported, in a discussion as to whether the alliance shall be renewed. Of course the chancellor's decision changes the situation completely. And it is not likely to add to the friendly feeling between Great Britain and her dominions. Apparently they have sent their premiers to London with the understanding that they would have something to say about future relations with Japan, but they now find the cards all stacked against them.

TO PROBE FARM PRICES.

Washington.—That Republican leaders in Congress intend to take no chances in their efforts to assist the farmers of the country is evidenced by the prompt passage through the House of the measure creating a joint commission to investigate the causes of the difference paid to tillers of the soil for their products and the price ultimately paid for those products by the consumer.

"The passage of the resolution," said Representative Strong of Kansas, "was requested by the congress of farm organizations held here in the city of Washington in April last. Representatives of sixteen farm organizations met here in conference. They knew that the farmers were receiving only about 10 or 15 per cent. of the price that the American people are charged for their commodities. They knew that the prices of farm products had been deflated, but that all supplies and materials that the farmer buys were still carrying the war price. They knew that credits had been restricted to agriculture, that cattlemen were being sold out, and the stock herds sacrificed. They knew that cattle, sheep, and hogs corn and wheat, oats, cotton, butter, eggs, and all farm produce which they were being forced to sell at prices far below the cost of production were still being sold to the consumer at prices they could not afford to pay, which robbed the producers of the sympathy which would otherwise result in protecting them from ruin."

While chicken thieves and other varmints of prey threaten the chicken roost these days when young fries are tempting, yet one should guard carefully his fresh air supply. T closed chicken house these nights results in an almost impossible atmosphere—an atmosphere so filled with reeking odors that even the flesh of the chicken is tainted. Fresh air is vital to good growth, and better to run the risk of losing a few whans to endanged the health of all. So open the windows and doors.

CONGRESS APPROPRIATES A QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS FOR HORSE BREEDING.

Money To Be Spent Under Supervision of Army Officers To Raise More Thoroughbred Horses for Cavalry Purposes.

OTHER GOVERNMENTS SPEND MUCH MORE.

Realizing the necessity of government interest, supervision and participation in breeding of thoroughbred horses, if the United States is to take her rightful position with the other countries of the world, the United States Congress has made an appropriation of a quarter of a million dollars to be expended in horse breeding.

While this is a very small amount when compared with the millions of expenditure made by the governments of England, France, Italy and Spain in this work, it is being effectively used to enlarge the number of thoroughbred horses suitable for cavalry mounts.

In explaining the plans of the United States government for the breeding of more and better horses, Col. C. E. Hawkins, Quartermaster's Corps, United States Remount Service, says:

"The world war brought out the fact that the National Defense demands, not only thousands upon thousands of horses and mules, but horses and mules of good breeding. Quality and breeding in the horse and mule is what gives them the staying power in danger and emergency, as well as for the less spectacular, but not less important, service in connection with our agricultural and commercial pursuits. What is true in the man is true in the horse. Courage in the soldier and morale in the horse and mule is that of the will to stay when threatened by the common instinct to falter which means failure and defeat.

"The United States is the great horse and mule market of the world. Our allies depended upon us for the major supply of their war horses and mules. Thousands upon thousands were sold to the British, French, Italian, Belgian, Greek and other governments. The supply that could be sold was limited only by the ships available for their transportation abroad, and the fact that nations were naturally of the first import.

"The first cry from abroad was for men, then for foodstuffs to feed their millions of soldiers and our own men; next came the demand for ammunition—the stuff that made the hellish fire that raked the enemy; his theatre of operations and his lines of communication. On the heels of the call for these necessities we had the one for the war horse and the war mule, in quantities never before approached.

"Automotive vehicles were used in great numbers. Yes, that is true, and it will be true in the future. But war and the horse and the mule continue to be inseparable. The great military migrations of the past—those, indeed, of civilization, itself—are so linked with the horse that his production and improvement may be said to have been co-existent with them. Mankind has not killed the horse and mule industry. Every member of the species has a valuable and important place to fill, motive power to the contrary notwithstanding. The latter and the horses will go along together, each filling an important and useful sphere.

"The breeding of horses and mules, far from being abated, should be practiced in the spirit of the utmost optimism and confidence. True, the horse and mule market is upset. The demand, however, for every class will come again before the colts now bred mature. All our best informed horsemen, breeders and farmers recognize this fact and advise doubling our attention to the work of breeding.

"Meanwhile better horses and mules should be the aim of every breeder. We need better blood, more quality; hence, a more valuable animal. A well bred, sound animal of good conformation and quality of any class, will always bring a high price and a handsome profit to the breeder. It is the scrub or ordinary animal that loses the breeder and farmer money. The scrub eats as much forage and takes as much care as the high class animal; and one has nothing at maturity. The progeny of high class, pure bred stallions, that have proved their courage, endurance and speed in competition, and selected farm mares, will bring the breeder an increasing profit as the time goes on.

"The Government is backing the production of these better horses and mules. This work is being accomplished by the War Department through the Remount Service, under the Quartermaster General of the U. S. Army.

"The last Congress appropriated a quarter of a million dollars to further these plans. The project also is being backed by an auxiliary society of the Remount Service, known as the American Remount Association, composed of army officers, civilians, breeders, farmers, ranchmen, horsemen, owners of race horses, drivers and riders,

Protest belong to the children. It's the expression of the soda strikers which is raging uptown. More than a thousand youngsters, many carrying placards and banners, marched from 161st street to the Bronx borough hall the other day proclaiming their indignation over the cost of that life-necessity, the glass of soda water. Five cents, they insisted, when they reached

In going over some old records, Henry G. Mallan of the Guaranty Trust Co., was reminded of what now seems amazing—that only as far back as '98, that big bank had just one commercial account opened by a woman earning her own living! Less than 25 years ago! Such a condition doesn't seem possible. But Mr. Mallan is an accurate authority.

The latest scheme of theatrical managers is to send their women-folk abroad to negotiate transactions in the acquiring of plays. William A. Brady empowered his daughter Alice to advise him concerning new productions in London and Paris, and Earl Carroll has sent his wife to Biarritz to discuss with the family of Edmond Rostand an adaptation of "The Last Night of Don Juan" by Mr. Carroll, who last season presented "The Lady of the Lamp" and "Daddy Dimples," and is now building a theater at Fifth street and Seventh avenue.

Why DON'T people try to get back their belongings which they leave on trains? Are they just naturally too discouraged by their pessimistic idea of fether fellow travelers, or what is the trouble? When they are taking long trips, you might understand it. They get too far away and they have learned that they took too much baggage anyhow; they're grateful if any that is lost. But here's the Long Island railroad, a commuters' road, pure and simple. Same people travel on it right along and are never far from home anywhere along its course. Yet of the 7,500 articles left on their trains and in their stations last year, only 2-

333 were called for. And here is an idea of what the unredeemed things were: overcoats, suitcases, furs, cameras, sweaters, canes, fishingrods, pocketbooks, bathing suits, ovals, dogs, parrots, canaries, chickens, rabbits, and guinea pigs! Now COULD anyone lost an owl or a guinea pig and never notice it?

This is the leanest theatrical season for New York in many years. Only 17 of the Broadway district's 57 theaters are open right now, where the number always has been from 20 to 25. Of the 17 running, seven are musical. There is this to be said, on the other hand, the breathing spell between seasons is shorter each year, so it doesn't make so much difference how completely a vacuum may be the breath that is drawn. About seven weeks is its limit, this year.

Some of the new motion picture companies continue to outline most attractive programs for their activities. I mentioned one or two recently and now here comes the Pyramid Pictures announcing just sixteen pictures a year and every one of them guaranteed to be of real literary as well as pictorial value. The particularly assuring note of their policy is that of working in close co-operation with the authors.

It's a pretty thankless task being a juror, anyhow; and it undoubtedly causes more anti-patriotic efforts at evasion than any way we ever got up. But the poor juror of New York City is in a particularly tough situation. For there isn't any money with which to pay him his hard-earned and magnificent $3 per day, which he was earning in theory while business piled up in his offices unattended to. The U. S. marshal's office has on hand just $6.10 with which to pay the $1700 now owing to various sets of twelve good men and true. Attorney-General Daugherty has been appealed to for help by some of the waiting ones.

Manhattan has one more citizen to don a title. Mrs. Blanche Vogel of our city was married the other day to the Marquis of Colvatore (whose other and still more interesting name is Don Giralomo Sommi-Piccardi) and even though she intends to live in Italy where her husband is a captain in the army, we can mention her among our people just the same. There has been something of a falling off in recent years in international marriages with titles attached and every additional one is welcomed for its spice of interest it adds to our society columns — if nowhere else.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seeger, brother and sister-in-law of the immortalized war poet, Alan Seeger, arrived here the other day in their queer little "residence" which solves all rent problems for them. It consists of a faithful, hardworking filver and a trailer carrying all the comforts of home. The Seegers and their three children all having a penchant for vagabondia, they gave up their big home in California and took their "little home" very much as a turtle does on its back. They have been drifting slowly through the moonshine districts of the Southern mountains and spent the winter in the woods near Pinehurst, N. C. They are camping down on Long Island now. Later they may ship their "home" abroad and do some troubadouring abroad.

MANY WOMEN

FARMERS IN KENTUCKY.
Washington, July 22.—In these days of women in politics, business and professions, it is not strange that they have also entered agriculture as a means of livelihood. But it may surprise the average Kentuckian to know that there are more than 11,000 women in Kentucky who operate farms as a business, any that they till almost a million acres.

Only six states have more women engaged in agricultural pursuits than Kentucky, and only six have a larger number of acres farmed by women according to the figures of the United States Census Bureau on farms.

ACT QUICKLY

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Ask your neighbor.

Plenty of Maysville evidence of their worth. Fred Dresel, proprietor tailor shop, 1238 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I am glad of the opportunity to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. When passing the secretions they burned terribly and often bordered on a stoppage. I had severe aching pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my duties. I was telling a friend how my kidneys acted and he advised me to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Wood & Son's Drug Store. I began taking Doan's and they gave me prompt relief. Doan's did me lots of good and I know they are an excellent remedy."

Mr. Dresel gave the above statement February 6, 1908, and on November 22, 1920, he added: "I think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did when I gave my former recommendation many years ago. My cure has been a lasting one."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dresel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
